Roomy, luxurious, wrappy coats they are, reflecting in their modish beauty the most advanced ideas of Parisian couturiers. The flare skirt strikes a new note in some of them, while others are loosely fitting, or semi-belted, but invariably the style is marked with smartest individuality. Materials were never lovelier than these soft piled fabrics—panvelaine, Bolivia, wondura, or Pollyanna.

Many are embellished with luxurious collars of taupe wolf, beaver, squirrel, nutria, mole and Australian opossum.

All of the new and desirable Autumn colorings are in the group. Malay, deer sorrento, ostrich, as well as navy and black.
